Summary This paper proposes to members an indicative timeline for consulting on a strategy and vision to 2015 for full participation in London.

Recommendations London Councils YPES members are asked to discuss the timeline with a view to making a recommendation to the Young People's Education & Skills Board meeting on 24 May 2011.

1. Background and Introduction

- 1.1 London Councils published Choice, Support, Success; priorities for 16-19 education and learning in London 2011/12 in November 2010. This recognised the significant shift in education policy following the election of the new coalition government, along with further changes in the management of 16-19 funding announced in the summer of 2010.
- 1.2 It was acknowledged that the intention to produce a five-year strategy for 14-19 education and learning, as envisaged in 2009, was no longer appropriate.
- 1.3 Subsequently, through policy announcements and the Education Bill, a clearer policy landscape has emerged. In particular, the confirmation of the Government's commitment to raising the participation age (RPA) to 17 in 2013 and 18 in 2015, provides additional certainty to the context in which a strategy and vision for 14-19 education and learning in London can be formulated.

2. Consultation

- 2.1 It is proposed that London Councils embarks on a process of consultation with a view to producing a strategy and vision for young people's education and skills in London. In order for there to be a proper period of consultation and for the strategy to be informed by the work of local authorities in terms of their Strategic Overview and RPA plans, it is envisaged that this activity will take in the region of 12 months.

- 2.2 This will necessitate the production of a refreshed Regional Statement of Priorities in the autumn of 2011.
- 2.3 The indicative timeline is attached as Appendix 1 for discussion.
- 2.4 It is still the intention that the strategy is driven by the ambitions expressed in Choice, Support, Success:

"Working together and in partnership with colleges, schools and providers, London's local government is uniquely placed to enable choice, provide support where it is needed most and ensure continued improvements in achievements, employability and success of London's young people."

3. Recommendation

- 3.1 London Councils YPES members are asked to discuss the timeline with a view to making a recommendation to the Young People's Education & Skills Board meeting on 24 May 2011.
