Seven key recommendations

Young people at the heart of London Ambitions

- 1) Access to impartial, independent and personalised careers education, information, advice and guidance
- 2) At least 100 hours of experiences of the world of work for all young Londoners and a digital portfolio

Leadership and accountability

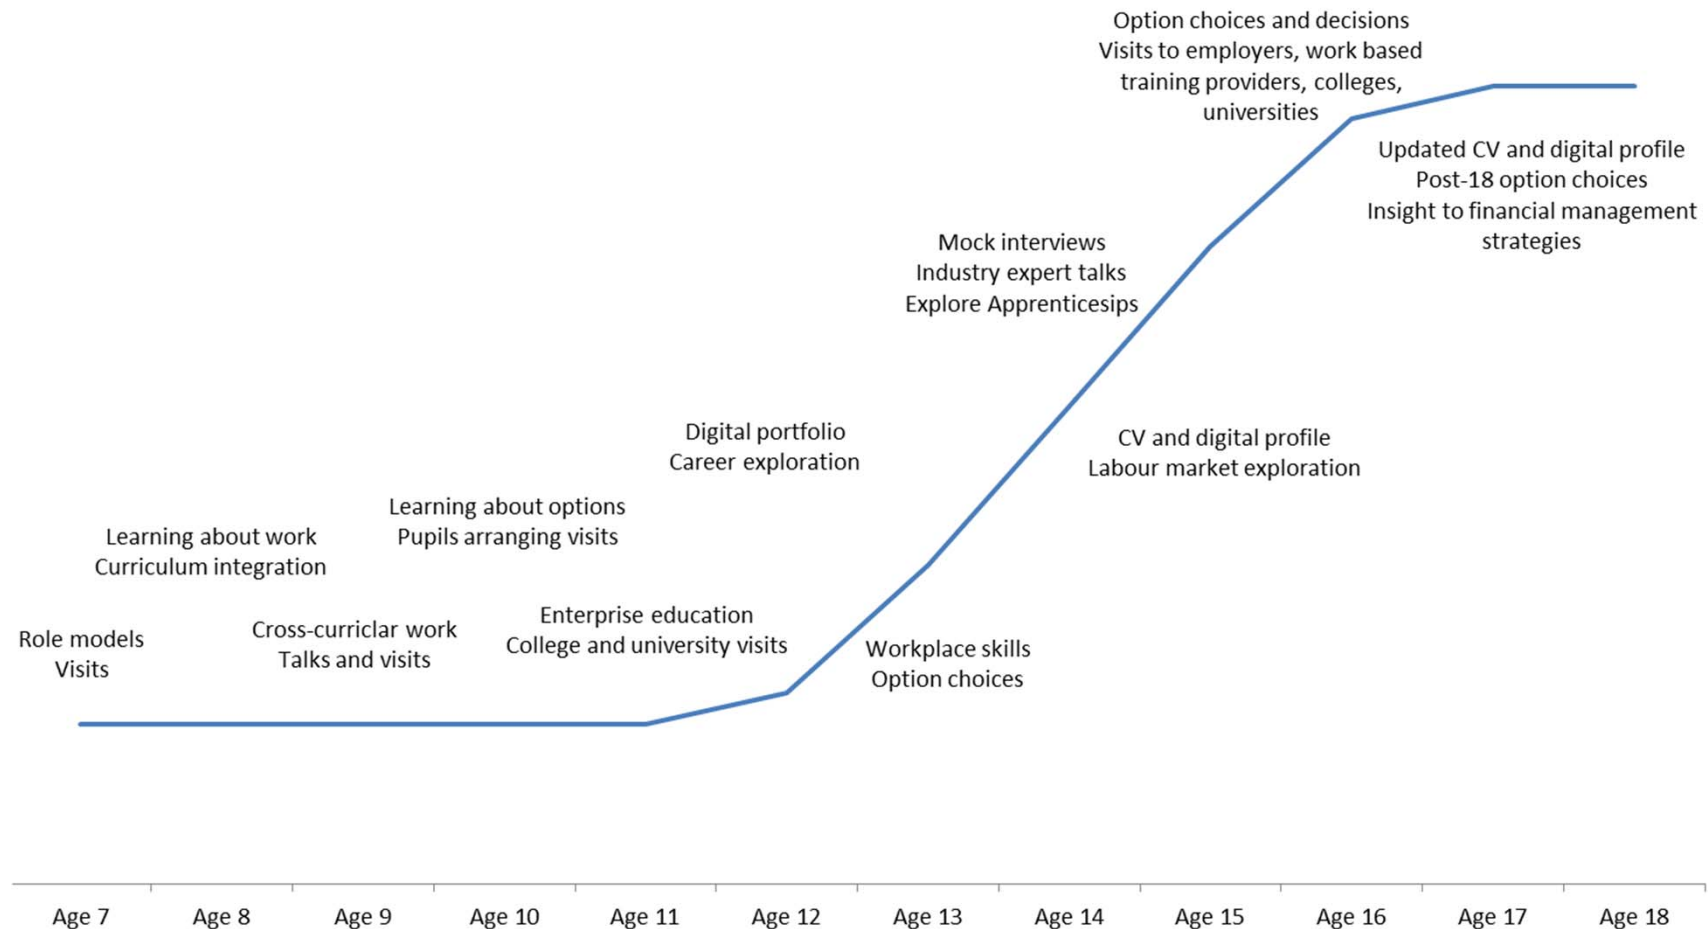

- 3) An explicit publicised careers policy and careers curriculum in every secondary school and college
- 4) A Governor with responsibility for ensuring students are supported to relate their learning to the world of work from an early age

Seven key recommendations

Support for a high quality careers work

- 5) Up-to-date, user-friendly labour market intelligence
- 6) Formation and development of 'careers clusters' across London
- 7) The London Ambitions Portal

100 hours experience of the world of work

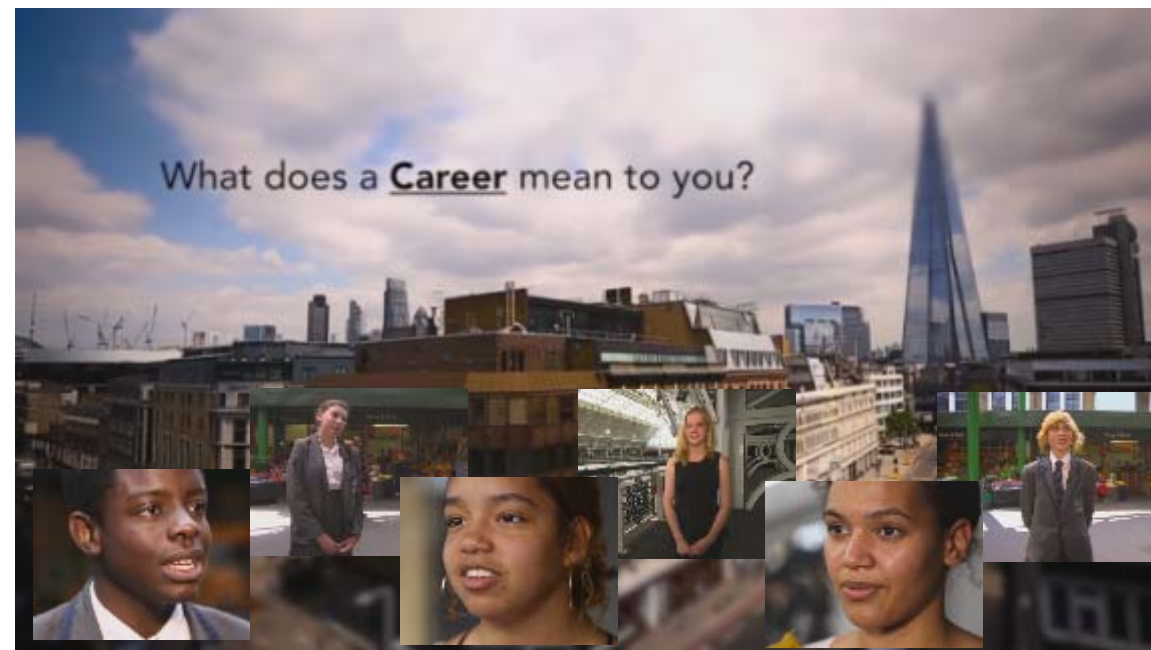

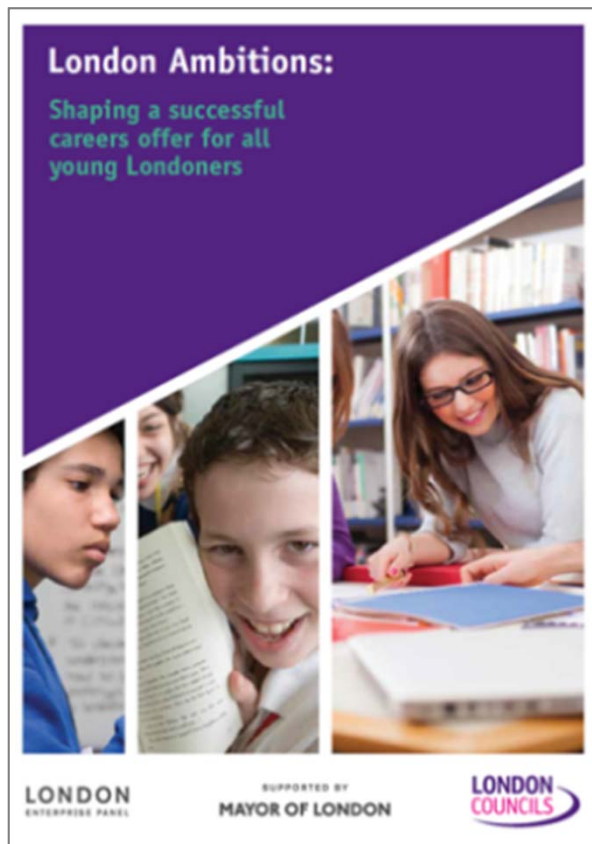

A London Careers Curriculum

- Objectives to inform and support pupil's/student's learning outcomes
- Activities to stimulate work-related experiences/action as part of their learning
- Examples of careers, enterprise and employability resources to support enquiry-based learning

Implementing London Ambitions

- Five year implementation plan currently being drafted based on the seven key recommendations (strands), supported by London Councils and the London Enterprise Panel (LEP)
- Communication will be critical – agreeing LEP Ambassadors for the strands
- Borough Ambassadors – promoting London Ambitions across schools and colleges in your borough. What might this look like? What support would you need?
