| REPLICATION PROGRAMME | AVENUE Replication programme                      | 1 October 2019        | Automated and electric vehicles | AVENUE is a Horizon 2020 programme that designs and carries out full scale demonstrations of urban autonomous mini-buses. It currently operates in four cities: Geneva, Copenhagen, Lyon and Luxembourg. It is looking to expand to at least three more sites starting in May 2020, that would apply and evaluate the current platform and services. The consortium is looking for participants that have experience with running similar pilots or the legal authorisation to start running one by May 2020. The shuttles are to be integrated with the existing public transport offer, and application with a manufacturer other than theirs, Navya, are encouraged. TfL recently published guidance on connected and autonomous vehicle trials in London, you can access it here. | 100,000 EUR             |
